May Day

May Day ( May 1) is a holiday rich in history and folklore, celebrating the turn of spring! It's the halfway point between the spring equinox and the summer solstice!

As with many early holidays, May Day was rooted in agriculture. Springtime festivities filled with song and dance celebrated the sown fields starting to sprout.

Cattle were driven to pasture, special bonfires were lit, and the doors of houses as well as livestock were decorated with yellow May flowers. In the middle Ages, the Gaelic people celebrated the festive of Beltane. Beltane means Day of Fire. People created large bonfire and danced at night to celebrate.

May Day has a long history and many traditions in England, some of which eventually came to America. Children would dance around the maypole holding on to colorful ribbons. People would bring in the May by gathering wildflowers and green braches, weaving of of floral hoops and hair garland, and crowning a May king and queen.

Not every woman is a mother but I do know a lot of ladies that has taking the motherhood role. Thank you so much to all the ladies.

White hair is no joking matter!

One day, a little girl is sitting and watching her mother do dishes at the kitchen sink. She suddenly notices that her mother has several strands of white hair sticking out in contrast to her brunette hair. She looked at her mother and inquisitively asks, Why are some of your hair white? Her mother replied, Well every time you do something wrong and make me cry or unhappy, one of my hairs turn white. The little girl thought about this revelation for a while and then asked, Momma, how come all of grandma's hair are white?

How do you know you're a mom?

1. You automatically double knot everything you tie.
2. Your feet stick to the kitchen floor and you don't care.
3. Can't find your cordless phone, so you ask a friend to call you, and you run around the house, following the sound until you locate the phone in the laundry basket.
4. Your favorite television show is a cartoon.
